Affected by Shortage
May Be Barred by Law*Suggestion Is Made That
One Month's Allotment
of Funds May Be Advanced by State.*OPINION HANDED DOWN
BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL*Holds That Governor Has Authority to Issue Second Warrants to Make Good Berrien Shortage.*Legal barriers may prevent the consummation of plans suggested to Governor Thomas W. Hardwick
Thursday under which schools in 17 counties would receive certain advances in their school funds to make good temporarily their losses through alleged shortages of R. N. Berrien, Jr., missing Atlanta bond broker, according to Superintendent of Education
M. L. Brittain. The plan to advance to these counties one month's allotment of their school funds and to continue to make such advances until relief could be granted by the state legislature was suggested at a conference held Thursday by Governor Hardwick, Superintendent Brittain, General William A. Wright, state comptroller, and W. J. Speer, state treasurer.*Superintendent Brittain, who has held the opinion that the state can reissue the warrants involved in the Berrien case, said Thursday he would welcome any plan which would enable the schools to obtain the money they need for future operation, but said he had found that there might be serious legal objection to the plan to advance the schools money from month to month, for the reason that the warrants for this year will mature next February, and also for the reason that the suffering schools in December would have to operate in 1921 on warrants legally due in 1922.Making Investigation."These may not be insurmountable barriers, but the matter is being investigated. No action has been taken on the plan suggested as yet," Superintendent Brittain said.*Attorney-General George M. Napier handed his opinion in the case to the governor Thursday, and it was made public. In this opinion the attorney-general holds that Berrien was the agent of the state of Georgia and not the agent of the county and city boards of education. He held that the original warrants will constitute a legal obligation against the state of Georgia in the hands of an innocent holder without notice and before mature.*He ruled further that the sending of the warrants to the city and county boards of education would not have been payment of the warrant. He also held that the governor has authority to issue second warrants to replace any of the warrants, the proceeds of which may have been embezzled, thus allowing all schools to participate in the entire fund in like proportion, even if necessary to make up the difference.*The attorney-general's opinion was comprehensive and covered all phases of the case. He recited a history of the passage of the legislation permitting the sale of such school warrants and cited numerous authorities to support his opinions on the points raised.
He sustained virtually all contentions
made in the case by Superintendent Brittain.*Does Not Agree.*Governor Hardwick does not agree with the attorney-general on several of the points involved in this case.
The difference of opinion between the attorney-general on the one hand and the governor and other state officials on the other, may lead to a test case being brought in the courts to settle the matter, according to information obtained from the governor.*If the plan can be worked out whereby the seventeen schools involved in the Berrien shortage are given advance payments each month out of the school fund, the loss in money finally can be covered by a deficiency appropriation passed by the legislature at its next session.
If this plan is adopted it will not be necessary to bring the legal proceedings to determine what agency will have to bear the loss.*No additional information was given out Thursday concerning the search for Berrien, but police authorities in other cities have been notified to co-operate in the search.*SON DENIES MORSE

last week, became known here tonight, following an investigation throughout Thursday by Lee Whatley, Pleinie Miner and Marvin Baker, special investigators of Solicitor General John Boykin's office. The officials directed their examination into the cause of a divorce granted the husband of Mrs. Williams and subsequent developments during her residence here.*Mrs. Williams, as Mrs. Melvin York, made her home in Griffin for a number of years. During the time she was the wife of York, he had three children, two of which are still living.
In 1921, York obtained a total divorce from her on the grounds of adultery, and obtained possession of the children. Mrs. Williams is now held in the Fulton county tower, charged with murder.*Bad Conduct Alleged.*It was in the summer of 1911 that York went to Warm Springs, Ga., and there found his wife registered at a hotel with another man, it is stated.
This formed the grounds upon which the divorce was granted. After the divorce was granted, Mrs. York returned to Griffin for a period of six months, but did not live with her former husband.*During the time that she was in Griffin, the officials learned, her conduct was not above reproach, and she was in trouble several times.*County officials here co-operated with the officers from Solicitor Boykin's office in obtaining this information, and stated that the general reputation of Mrs. Williams "was very damaging and of the worst sort."*Child Dies.*It developed today that the death recent Hughes and Mr. Balfour, exercising their "good offices," not with the Japanese and Chinese delegations for a preliminary survey of the situation and then left American and British observers on the ground to aid in whatever way they can to bring the two Oriental groups into agreement.

The part taken by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Balfour in the meeting was not to have been confined to a general statement of confidence that a just and fair solution would be reached, Baron Kato responding for Japan and Minister Sze for China with general expressions of gratification in the interest taken by the two other powers.

The Japanese were more than ever, however, and afterward it was indicated that it had not been determined whether Japan or China should make the first move. There will be another meeting tomorrow.

Japanese Optimistic.

The note of optimism over the outcome of the naval discussions was perfectly manifest tonight among the Japanese. While refraining from any comment on the British position, Baron Kato said he would not regard the situation as constituting a deadlock, and another member of the Japanese delegation, using a different phrase, emphasized that "we are not pessimistic."

The submission of the entire subject to Tokio indicates that under the Japanese system it will be considered by the Japanese cabinet as well as by the diplomatic advisory council, a body composed of eminent Japanese, directly responsible to the government. Representatives of the Japanese expressed the opinion tonight that in order to reach a decision every element connected with the question must be taken into consideration with the result that the exchanges here might be slowed down appreciably.

So far as the Washington end of the situation is concerned, the problem is regarded as having narrowed down to direct and personal exchanges among the naval "big three"—Secretary Hughes, Mr. Balfour and Baron Kato. The committee of naval experts will be available, of course, if further questions of fact have to be worked out, but that possibility seems remote. The questions of policy must be decided by the imperial potentiaries themselves, and the "big three" constitute the inner circle of authority among them.

Pacific Fortifications.

In side-line discussions today there were further suggestions that the question of naval bases and fortifications in the Pacific might find a place of growing prominence in the negotiations. The Japanese, for example, have revealed Japan has not yet formally raised that point, but it has been suggested by Japanese not directly connected with the delegation that Tokio might seek along with a ratio agreement a definite understanding as to the American and British bases in Pacific waters.

While on their way to Washington, the Japanese delegation made known which Japan would have a navy large enough to meet any force that any other power would be able to send to the Orient. In other words, it was suggested that Japan must have some assurance that American fortifications in the Philippines and at Guam were not to be increased to the point where they could not be easily destroyed. Japan should be able to use them as bases in an offensive against the Japanese empire.

As the issue involved is not returned to a question of policy, the suggestion is made that the problem of national defense for the Japanese empire is very closely related to the question of naval fortifications which are located near by.

Dismembered Body Of Baby Girl Found In Old Washboiler

Chicago, December 1.—After an all-night search for little Margaret Coughlin, three years old, her dismembered body was found today in an old washboiler in the home of Mrs. Ralph Pensis, 52 years old, a neighbor. Shortly afterward the body of Mrs. Pensis with her throat slashed by a butcher knife was found on the second floor of the Pensis residence. Police immediately began a search for Ralph Pensis, the woman's husband.

The police who called at the Pensis home, the last place the child was seen yesterday, found the doors locked. This morning they broke the door open and made their entrance. In the basement they discovered the little girl's torso in the washboiler, sitting on a pile of paper which had been fired, but the flames had gone out. Several feet away one leg, wrapped in paper, was found in a cardboard box. The other leg was found later on a bed upstairs. The body was still warm. The police believe she killed herself.

Mrs. Pensis told police yesterday that they last saw Margaret Coughlin about 3 o'clock when she came to the house with Josephine Pensis to play. In a few moments, she said, Margaret complained of pain in her stomach and ran out of the house and across the street to her own home.

to the Japanese general staff, is it or is not the controlling influence in Japan? This again raises a further point: Whether the Japanese government deliberately intends to ascertain the attitude of the nations forming the British Empire?

Had All to Gain.

It had been hoped that Japan would long since have perceived that the adoption of any aggressive, or not clearly unaggressive, attitude on her part must infallibly range the British nations against her, alliance or no alliance. Should she persist in her present course, she may render it expedient that the British delegation should be instructed to stimulate her perception.

Japan had everything to gain, and nothing to lose, by pursuing throughout the conference a policy of farsighted moderation. While promoting the success of the conference, and adding prestige and political clout, such a policy would also leave her in a position to secure every advantage in the Far East which she is entitled to claim. For the moment, and under influences whose nature can only be surmised, she appears disposed to act otherwise. Reticence at this juncture would, therefore, be misleading; let us imagine that her present attitude could be persisitent in without serious detriment to Anglo-Japanese relations.

The house overlooks the beautiful First Church of Christ, Scientist, one of the most handsome edifices in the south. The new First Presbyterian church is only a block away.

The house contains 12 rooms, and stands on a lot fronting 229 feet and running 140 feet. The grounds are among the prettiest in the city, and are known for their shrubbery and sunken gardens.

Although greater sums have been expended in building new residences in Atlanta, it is thought that the amount involved in the High-Lynch transaction is greater than any residence purchase price in the city's history.

Satisfactorily Growing.

The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is neither a stable or tottering condition. It is increasing.

and spreading its influence.

The only trouble now in the ranks is with a few misguided klanites.

It is with the influence of two of the grand goblins that were recently discharged and they will soon see the light.

On Monday night, previous to the meeting at Portland, Ore., cheered for many minutes when they passed a similar resolution endorsing the work and expressing confidence in officials at Atlanta. In fact, almost daily we are receiving messages from every section of the nation expressing confidence in the organization and its officials.

There are only a few disgruntled ambitious climbers attempting to give us any trouble within our organization.

The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is the largest and most active organization in America today.

It is the official organ of the Ku Klux Klan and we have come to hold many spiritual meetings with real Americans.

The organization is absolutely solvent and statements that it is not are false.

ATTACK ON CLARKE BRINGS DISCHARGE

by him and secreted to the secretary of the organization, instructing them to turn over all money, property and records in their possession to me. The order from the imperial wizard was carried out at 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, November 26, and they still declined to give an accounting. I waited until today, in the office of my attorney, and accordingly forced an accounting.

Colonel Simmons' Statement.

Colonel W. J. Simmons, imperial wizard, stated Thursday night that the charges made by the four grand goblins had been thoroughly and carefully investigated, found to be baseless, and that the four men had been relieved of all connection with the order as a result of insubordination.

"They came to Atlanta," he said,

"and made certain statements to me concerning the conduct of Mr. Clarke and Mrs. Tyler. I summoned the members of the executive committee to a meeting and told the accusers of the two officers that if their statements were sustained, either Clarke or I had to quit the order.

"We gave the matter thorough and careful consideration for the better part of two days, and not a statement made by them was sustained by the committee—a committee composed of loyal, sensible, responsible men.

"Then, their charges having been given proper attention, and the incident settled, they were supposed to return to their work in their respective territories. This they failed to do, remaining in Atlanta, and therefore becoming insubordinate. Then they were relieved of any connection with the order.

"All they have done is to hurt themselves and not the organization, which is bigger than any one man or four men. Now they are just trying to get a little newspaper publicity."

In explaining his reasons for making public the affidavits, Harry B. Terrell, in a formal statement to The Constitution, declared that he had offered to turn over the property in question in the bail trover proceedings, noting that it is now in Chicago, Washington, and that Mrs. Lowry, of Fulton county, has no jurisdiction over it. Terrell added that the court proceedings for this reason are an absurdity and claimed that Clarke instituted them solely for the purpose of having him lodged in jail and thus disgraced.

Charging that enemies of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan are so desperate in their efforts to secure his discharge as head of the organization that they have offered Imperial Wizard William Joseph Simmons $40,000 to dismiss him, Edward Young Clarke, imperial klaniff, said that he has been given proper attention, and the incident settled, they were supposed to return to their work in their respective territories. This they failed to do, remaining in Atlanta, and therefore becoming insubordinate. Then they were relieved of any connection with the order.

Statement by Clarke.

"Regarding the recent trover action which was taken against Harry B. Terrell, a former grand klaniff in the department of propagation of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, I wish to state that I do not intend to engage in any newspaper controversy with him or any other of the three discharged grand goblins, but they have been banished from the organization and are now longer in any way, or remotely, connected with the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. It is natural that this should be so in view of the fact that I am on the firing line and the work I did spread my organization that has so far been successful.

"The enemy first attempted to crush the Klan by outside attacks, shooting their fire on me. The effort to do this failed, and the business failed and the enemy is now seeking to cause internal dissension hoping to create an internal explosion and to attack the organization from the inside.

"Within the past ten days the imperial wizard of the organization has been offered $40,000. He would not accept this sum, and I am really surprised that no effort has been made to bribe me, and the only reason it has not been done must be because the enemy knows that he will not be bought at any price, and they will learn, sooner or later, that they cannot crush me by underhand and below the belt attacks on me.

ICE CREAM MEN ADJOURN AT NOON

With most of the business dispensed with during Wednesday and Thursday, the ninth annual convention of the Southern Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers will convene Friday morning at the Auditorium. Discus plans for the future, pass resolutions, and elect officers for 1922. Adjournment will take place at noon.

The convention progressed Thursday without a hitch in plans. Approximately 700 delegates are in attendance at the three conventions, and the exhibit. The "three conventions" are the annual meetings of North Carolina and Tri-State associations of ice cream manufacturers meeting in conjunction with the southern association. The exhibit of ice cream machinery and appliances is being held in the Auditorium under the auspices of the Association of Ice Cream Supply Men, a national organization.

Thursday afternoon's session was spent in hearing W. J. Barrett, of Tampa, Fla., and C. A. Odom, of Macon, Ga., discuss the question, "How Can the Southern Manufacturers of Ice Cream Increase Consumption of Ice Cream Per Capita to Compare with Consumption in the East?" W. W. Campbell of Shreveport, La., then discussed "The Express Situation," and a general discussion of ice cream questions closed the afternoon. The annual banquet of the association was held Thursday night in the Assembly hotel, Governor Thomas W. Hardwick and Herbert Clay, of the state senate, being the chief speakers.

Predicts Better Times.

Governor Hardwick, speaking of the depression and gloom which followed the war, predicted better times for the coming year. He then stated Americans should develop a broader market. He also touched on the final climatic touch—the developing dairy industry and predicted that if the convention met here ten years from now they would find a south with a dairy and ice cream industry on a par with that of other sections of the country.

Herbert Clay then spoke, saying that the south has passed the point where it relies wholly on cotton and is turning for diversification. He then complimented the convention and expressed the hope that the delegates will meet here again soon.

Ollie Jordan, chairman of the resolutions committee of the Supply Men's association, then read resolutions expressing among other things gratitude for the hospitality shown the delegates by Atlanta. The resolutions were presented with trophies, namely P. N. Miller, retiring president of the Dixie Flyers, and Byron Morris, of South Boston, Tenn., and the Southern Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, who brought in more members to the association during the last year than any other member.

Following the fine dinner, there were numerous entertainment features and a dance.

At the banquet the governor had as his escort Mrs. Craddock Goins, Mrs. W. M. Sidebottom and Mrs. Herbert Clay.

Fine Addresses Made.

Thursday morning's session at 10 o'clock, opened with a speech on "Improved Methods of Packing Ice Cream Bricks." The other addresses were by J. R. Jones, of Little Rock, Ark.; R. M. Washburn, of Minneapolis, Minn., and W. E. Drake, of Nashville, Tenn. It was pointed out by Mr. Jones that people in the north buy large quantities of ice cream during the winter, and he asked why southerners, people who live in a warmer climate, should not do the same.

The program for Friday follows:

10 A. M.—Business meeting for members only.

Report of committees.

New business.

Election of officers.

Executive session for ice cream manufacturers only open for round table discussion.

Evening—Open.

PRESS ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—The Eighth District Press Association will meet Saturday in the chamber of commerce at Athens, according to an announcement made to-night. A large attendance is expected and special arrangements have been made for the session.

NO MORE LOST LINENS .

Since we inaugurated our new system of washing flatwork separately (each wash to itself just as if you were having it done at home) we have practically solved the problem of lost linens. You can send your finest linens to the laundry now and be sure of getting them all back again. Our absolute guarantee covers that entirely.

NEW WAY NO MARK SYSTEM

means that we do not mark your linens with ugly useless laundry marks. Means that your linens are washed separately and are returned to you just as they were without any marks whatever.

By this new way clothes are washed whiter and cleaner than ever before and bear this in mind, there is no extra charge. The cost is the same as the other laundries get for the old method of laundering.

Two Hunters Die As Farmer Fires Upon Trespassers

CLARKE CASE LIKELY TO REACH JURY TODAY

Florence, S. C., December 1.—Fay Poston, 18, was killed and his brother, Alger Poston, probably fatally injured near Johnsonville today when they and other members of a hunting party said have been fired upon in trespassing upon a farmer's land. Other members of the party also were said to have been wounded.

John Poston, accused of the shooting, was surrounded late today in a swamp by a posse of citizens, according to word received at the sheriff's office here. Deputies were sent at once to investigate, and at the request of citizens of Johnsonville, carried extra supplies of ammunition.

WOULD CONTINUE TRUCE IN IRELAND, DESPITE DEADLOCK

BY RALPH H. TURNER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

London, December 1.—In confirmation of previous reports by the United News that suspension of the Irish peace negotiations might be agreed upon by both parties in order to permit Lloyd George to attend the Washington conference, it is learned from reliable sources that the government has already begun to take certain measures to guarantee the observance of the truce during the premier's absence.

The present liaison arrangements between English army officials and Sinn Fein leaders are being expanded, and it is hoped that the two factions will arrive at an understanding under which Sinn Fein will pledge itself to do its utmost in maintaining order.

Meanwhile, the government is still endeavoring to formulate new proposals, which will be acceptable both to Ulster and Sinn Fein. There is no indication that the southern leaders will recede from their present position, especially in view of President de Valera's recent declaration that Sinn Fein, having been given nothing and promised nothing, "stands exactly as it stood four years ago."

WAR VETERAN IS FOUND GUILTY IN BIBB COURT

Macon, Ga., December 1.—(Special) J. J. Temples, a young white man and world war veteran, was found guilty in Bibb superior court today of a charge of robbing a mail train and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve three months in jail.

Temples was alleged to have secured small sums of money in Georgia, Alabama and Florida by representing his father to be a high ranking Mason and himself a member of Solomon Lodge of Masons in Savannah.

FOUR BOYS ARRESTED ON ROBBERY CHARGES

Four white boys were arrested Thursday by detectives on the charge of entering and looting freight cars coming into Atlanta over a period of several months past. The boys gave their names as Walter T. Miller, age 17, 700 1/2 South Pryor street; Bedford Ragsdale, 16, 278 Cooper street; Richard Hiller, 16, 101 Windsor street; Douglas Hyman, 16, 305 Woodward avenue.

Chief Poole says that the boys admitted breaking the seals and entering freight cars coming into Atlanta. The method adopted was to enter the cars at the federal prison before their arrival in the city and carry the goods away in cars. It is thought that large quantities of cigarettes, shoes and clothing have been carried off in this way. Officers who made the arrests were Detectives Whitley, McGee and Evans, and Special Officer Coley.

Evening—Open.

SUMMERTIME ELECTION.

Summerville, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—Mayor George D. Espy has ordered an election for Saturday, January 7, at which time a mayor and one councilman from each of the four wards of Summerville will be chosen. It is expected the women of Summerville will play an important part in the city election next year, many having registered, and it is not unlikely that there will be several women candidates.

FORMER A. B. & A. MEN INDICTED IN BURNING

Orlando, Fla., December 1.—The case of Lena M. T. Clarke and Baxter L. Patterson, charged with the murder of Fred A. Millimore, former employee at the West Palm Beach post office, is expected to be given to the jury shortly after noon tomorrow. Argument of counsel, begun this afternoon, was limited to four hours for each side, and is expected to be finished in time for Judge Andrews, presiding, to complete his charge to the jury before noon.

In the meantime, in this argument today, dwelt at length on testimony tending to prove Miss Clarke insane at the time of Millimore's death, while the state contended she was mentally responsible.

The pulp industry of Pennsylvania employs 7,144 persons, and the wages and salaries approximate $12,500,000 a year.

KAMPER AND BYCK
WILL AID IN PROBE
OF AGRICULTURE
BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY,
Constitution Bureau,
Raleigh Hotel
Washington, December 1.—By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The appointment of seven committees to secure distribution data in respect to commodities has been announced today by Representative Sydney Anderson, chairman of the joint commission of agricultural inquiry. The various interests of the several commodities, without exception, welcomed the opportunity given by the commission to present data. All committees are working on preparation of questionnaires, and all data secured is said, will be analyzed. This analysis, together with the work sheets, will be submitted to the commission not later than January 1.

The committees are "retail grocers," of which Francis E. Kamper, of Atlanta, is chairman; "wholesale grocers," "retail clothesiers," "retail shoes," of which Werner S. Byck, of Atlanta, is a member; "wholesale order in 1913, according to defense counsel.

According to Francis E. Kamper, well-known Atlanta grocer, the joint commission has been in session for five or six months, the principal work being to interview farmers as to the best agricultural methods.

Between October 13 and September 1, said Mr. Kamper, the retail grocers' committee sent out 1,000 or more questionnaires as to the figures at which retail grocers of the country have bought and sold commodities from 1914 up to the present time. H. C. Malsiger, secretary of the National Retail Grocers' Association, has charge of this work, which differs in several respects from that being done by the government along similar lines.

The committee of the Retail Grocers' Association will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week at Hotel Sinton, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Kamper will leave at 4:25 Saturday morning for the meeting. The members of the committee are: F. E. Kamper, chairman; John A. Ulmer, Toledo, Ohio; Phillip A. Deluz, Rochester, N. Y.; George W. Amison, Providence, R. I.; Frank B. Connally, San Francisco, Cal.; John C. Sheahan, Minneapolis, Minn.; John H. Stearns, Kansas City, Kan.; H. C. Malsiger, secretary of the committee, Kansas City, Kan.

Mr. Byck could not be reached Thursday night for a statement.

Mrs. Morgan said also that she had been affiliated with the "fifth company" in the Canadian military service at the front. Rayward testified that there was no "fifth company." preciable, and are now definitely in the race for campaign honors.

Commenting upon this spurt, and declaring the purpose of his men to continue their upward progress, Mr. Harington called attention to the formation of a new team, which he said,

"which Miss Rappe died, was rarely of a purely internal or spontaneous character. The prosecution charges that Aruckle caused the injury.

Mrs. Lulu Cory, attendant at a Ventura county hot springs resort, to have been visited by Miss Rappe, was unable to recall the payment plan followed for the plunge at the resort, which she testified was made by Miss Rappe.

The inflammation of the bladder caused no weakening of the bladder wall, Dr. Ophuls testified.

The inflammation would not prevent the bladder from rupturing if in itself cause a rupture," he said.

Dr. E. M. Everin, who was named on the commission by the court, also explained the report.

The degree of inflammation was considerably small in Miss Rappe's bladder, he said.

Dr. G. C. Rusk, third member of the commission, said he could not determine whether the inflammation noted would predispose the bladder to rupture.

The first report brought cheers. The figure was $1,170. This was second only to Team No. 23, under E. Howard, which brought in $1,316.

R. M. Demont's men, Team 11, Division 2, was third, with $1,031.

Top $1,000 Mark

Every division moved beyond the $1,000 mark, which is the first time that all have done that, and indications were, as the men left for an afternoon's solicitation that Friday's report would just as heavy. As an added inducement to good reports and strong attendance at Friday's luncheon, J. R. Williams, general chairman, announced a prize. For the division turning in the largest total, a bonus of $250 will be given. A similar award will be made to the division having the largest attendance.

The hope for a complete victory was voiced by Mr. Regnas, who issued this campaign statement:

"More, the job is practically half done. But the job is yet to come. However, Atlanta knows now that there is a real campaign on, and that a bunch of fighters who won't let go are on the job. Let's make more calls, and work harder these last four days, and on Monday night attend the great rally in the downtown area where Atlanta has never seen."

That other cities of Georgia are watching the outcome of the campaign is evidenced by the number of telegrams which are being received.

J. K. Orr, general secretary, read these:

From Athens: "Athens wishes for your present drive a God-given success. The same, constructive, Christian work of the Y. M. C. A. for our boys and girls is needed more than ever."

From Augusta: "Great success to Atlanta in her campaign."

From Albany: "Association friends in Georgia and throughout the south watch with prayerful interest your campaign. Your success means much to the people in our great southland."

From Columbia, S. C.: "This wire came: 'Atlanta's boys need greater opportunities. Best wishes for campaign's success.'"

MRS. WILLIAMS' PAST BARRED BY RECORD

Thursday for Saturday morning by Judge John D. Humphries in the criminal division of the superior court. Mrs. Williams shot and killed N. L. Lee, locomotive engineer, at her home on Ormond street November 23.

The application sets out that Mrs. Williams is in a delicate physical condition and it is feared that if she is confined in the tower for any considerable length of time her health may be permanently impaired.

Len B. Guillebaud, counsel for Mrs. Williams, conferred Thursday with Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, and as the solicitor gave no indication that he would be able to try the case at an early date the application for bond was filed.

Canadian farmers were required to answer 220 questions in the 1921 census.

SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers you—Meat forms
uric acid.

Most folks forget that the kidneys are the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally; else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with astringents, is harsh enough to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—(adv.)

MISTRIAL ORDERED IN HAMMOND CASE

Columbus, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—A mistrial was declared late this afternoon in the case of L. C. Hammond, charged with the murder of his wife.

The jury was out from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 5 o'clock this afternoon, and was unable to form a verdict.

A. G. Smith, spokesman for the jurors, said that the disagreement was due simply to a difference of opinion. The jurors divided four to eight, and neither side would yield.

The case will be tried again at the next term of court.

Henry McGill, charged with the murder of Robert Miles, was placed on trial today, and this case is still in progress. "There was a short fight in a cotton mill, and Miles died some days afterward. It is claimed that death was caused by a blow by McGill, which caused an internal hemorrhage to develop."

Films for Children Given Endorsement By Parent-Teachers

The presidents of parent-teacher associations of the city at a meeting held Thursday in the rainbow room of the Hotel Ansley heartily endorsed the three films for children, "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," "Cinderella," and "The Magic Shoppe," and "Red Riding Hood." All the clubs will present for Atlanta children at the city Auditorium in December.

A letter to this effect was sent to Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, chairman of the club committee, after the meeting by Mrs. Charles Morris, president of the assembled presidents of associations.

Professor Willis A. Sutton attended the meeting and praised the films, which he already had seen at a private showing with President W. W. Gaines of the board of education.

The associations named a committee to have charge of the sale of tickets at 30 cents, including tax, for the three pictures, all school children. The committee included Mrs. Charles Morris, Mrs. Z. O. Peterson, chairman; Mrs. H. C. McCutcheon, Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mrs. M. E. Alles and Mrs. R. F. McCormick, ex-officio.

The Hebrew Orphans' home has been honored by Mrs. J. E. Summerville and Mrs. Ethelene Strother, insuring that every child there shall see each of the series. Mrs. S. F. Boykin has sponsored the Y. M. C. A. Newsboys' club.

The letter semi-sent Mrs. Price-Smith follows:

Mr. W. B. Price-Smith, chairman and committee, Atlanta Women's club.

Mr. Daniel M. Smith, president, addressed to the president of the parent-teacher associations today, the associations by their representatives, and announced to the members of the club offering help to every child in Atlanta see the wholesome films, "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," "Cinderella," and "The Magic Shoppe," and "Red Riding Hood," during the six days' exhibit at the Auditorium, December 10 to 17. They further voted to handle the sale of the special admission tickets and announced that undersigned is act to the associations in this regard.

"We are doing our best for the Woman's club for this splendid undertaking, and will do our utmost to make the venture a complete success. The prices charged are reasonable, but those who should be more difficult in carrying through the losses of those in charge as well as expenses in preparing, setting up, etc., with the result that every child in Atlanta might see these wonderful films."

Months of Delay In Water System Work Is Avoided

WILL FIGHT ERECTION OF COLORED SCHOOL

Three months' delay in the enlargement and improvement of Atlanta's waterworks system has been avoided, according to a statement made Thursday by W. Zoda Smith, manager of the works. In the recent bond issue of $8,850,000 the sum of $2,850,000 was provided for the waterworks.

Expenditure to an amount of 8,000 cubic yards have been made, according to Mr. Smith, and foundations are ready for the building of forms and the pouring of concrete for the construction of the 21,000,000 gallon daily capacity first basin, and the 10,000,000 gallon capacity clear water basin at the Hemphill pumping station.

"Anticipating that the enlargement that would have had to be made in some way, with or without the bond issue, the water board, in April, 1926, retained Paul H. Norcross as consulting engineer to make a thorough survey of the situation and to draft plans," said Mr. Smith.

Did Not Stop Work.

"Our plans were just about completed when the bond issue was voted last March, and the fact that the bonds were held up by litigation did not stop our work, although, of course, we did not have either the money or authority to make contracts.

"However, with funds already in hand, we started to work three months ago getting ready for the work, and now we are ready for the contractor to move his crew on the ground and start concrete work."

He is ready, too, to turn the complete specifications over to the printer on the same day the mayor signs an ordinance of council ordering us to go ahead with the work.

"Council will have to pass on the program that has already been passed on by the waterworks committee of the board commission and the water board, and will, in all probability, make an arrangement with the contractor to move his crew on the ground and start concrete work."

"We estimate that it will require about three weeks to get the specification printed and put in the hands of the various contractors who may want to bid on the work. In the meantime, we will advertise for bids.

Will Take Several Weeks.

"It will probably require 30 days for the contractors to make their estimates and submit their bids, and another two or three weeks to select the successful bidder and check his bid and award the contract. After the contract has been signed, it should take the contractor only a short time to get his machinery and workers on the ground and carry the work forward from where we left off our excavation work."

"Everything possible will be done to prevent avoidable delay in the work on reduced salaries which the workers have voluntarily accepted until payment can be secured. But even this will not suffice unless the purchase of stamps exceeds our sale of last year. The only way we can possibly continue will be to cut off two of our most valued and important workers."

"As the matter now stands, practically our entire force is working on reduced salaries which the workers have voluntarily accepted until payment can be secured. But even this will not suffice unless the purchase of stamps exceeds our sale of last year. The only way we can possibly continue will be to cut off two of our most valued and important workers."

"When the contemplated improvements are completed, Mr. M. Reed, in his report, will have an better water system than Atlanta. With the exception of New Orleans, no southern city has ever undertaken so comprehensive a program, according to Mr. Norcross.

NORTH CAROLINA MAN GIVES GOOD ROAD TALK

Fitzgerald, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—Major J. Hammon Reed, of North Carolina, director for the Daniel Boone trail, spent a few days here in the interest of the Daniel Boone Trail organization, whose highway project is to connect with the Dixie highway at Florida at this point. Major Reed is an enthusiastic "good roads" advocate. He addressed a meeting of interested autoists at banquet last night.

Coat Time, and This Is the Place

—Following here are coat values. They are picked from the Annual Sale of 1,000 coats, and while they are representative, they are no more so than others and others that might be given.

—We have sold more coats this season than ever before. One reason, this is a coat season. Next reason, the savings on coats at Rich's.

200 Winter Coats, $21.95

—Normandy, bolivia, velours, silvertip and other coatings. Flare, blouse, wrappy and belted styles. Fur or self trimmed. Brown, reindeer, navy, black and Sorrento. Sizes 14 to 54. From our $25 to $35 lots.

62 Short Plush Coats, $27.95

—New coats, very specially priced. Black only. Silky plush that is rich and luxuriant. Plain styles with convertible self collars or dyed opossum collars. Flared or belted. Sizes 14 to 44.

To Teach the Young Idea to Shoot

—The world in miniature—that is Toyland. Your child and precious one, the expectancy and hope of your life, may be instructed while at play. Here are toys that train by amusing—they teach the young idea to shoot. Building sets that the future architects of America's cathedrals, Parthenons and Pantheons may develop the constructive idea early. Engines, automobiles and railway trains that whiz, bang and clatter for future Edisons and Henry Fords.

—Sewing baskets for diminutive Dories who just must make things as Mamma does, for dolls that would have "nothing to wear" unless they did sew.

—And so, the whole Muse Building is alive with things of interest to the children.

Added Attractions

—There is a playground on the second floor with a nurse in attendance, where children may play under a watchful eye while their mothers are shopping. A Shetland pony and buggy furnish free rides for all little boys and girls.

the president of the board, is in charge during the two days that the bazaar will be open and is assisted by the other members. She states that the offerings this year are suitable for previous displays they have made and at the same time the prices charged are materially less.

A really noteworthy display of fancy work, as well as both useful and ornamental articles of feminine wear, has been assembled, together with many articles of general use, suitable for Christmas presents for any member of the family. There is also an unusual display of good things in the form of cakes, candy, pickles and preserves. Mrs. Earley states that it is the purpose of the ladies in charge of this bazaar to give full value for every dollar expended, and while every penny taken in goes directly to the support of the indigent old women in the home, the public may be assured, in addition to the satisfaction of helping the worthy charity, that the prices paid for articles at this bazaar are only fair prices for such goods and many things may be bought here which are not for sale in any store. Christmas shoppers, both men and women, are most cordially invited to call.

Writers' Club Entertainment.

The Atlanta Writers' club will present a beautiful program at Edison hall Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The films will be shown on Saturday at 12 o'clock and at 2 o'clock the next day at the Auditorium. The dates are December 9, 10, 12, 13, 16, and 17.

Alice Carey has organized a committee among the colored people to assist in this movement. At each performance colored children will occupy the balcony at the Auditorium.

Christmas Cards.

Mrs. Iola Bishop, of Savannah, state officer of the Georgia Children's Home society, laid before the Parent-Teacher body the importance of having children in good condition to help the $3,500 due in January to the Georgia Children's Home at Orangewood court. The Masonic club of Atlanta, with R. H. Jones as president, has assumed the debt, and the singing of the carols by the school children will assist financially, and will serve to promote child welfare.

Mrs. Boykin Talks.

Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, brought a request from the postmaster-general, who asked the club to allow the club and P.T.A. to have all Christmas packages wrapped and addressed properly. The Presidents' club endorsed the request, which was presented as a resolution by Mrs. Boykin. The motion was made by Mrs. Peterson to make Mrs. Boykin, Miss Connie Chisholm, of The Atlanta Georgian; Miss Mildred Cabaniss, of The Atlanta Journal, and Mrs. Rix Starnes.

Any physician or druggist can tell you that the first step in the treatment of cold, cough, sore throat, influenza or gripe should invariably be a brisk calomel purgative, preferably the calomel tablet. This alone is often sufficient to break up a severe cold overnight, or cut short an attack of gripe and possibly prevent pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausae nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure, or work. When you have finished your Calotab it is purified and refreshed. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages; price ten cents for the vest pocket size; thirty-five cents for a large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists everywhere. Price refunded if you are not delighted.—(adv.)

To Wed Mr. Gallagher.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell Caldwell, of Staunton, Va., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to John Carroll Gallagher, on Tuesday evening, December the twentieth, at 8 o'clock. First Presbyterian church in Staunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will give a reception immediately after the ceremony at 22nd Kalorama street.

Mr. Gallagher and his bride will make their home after January 5 at Fort Defiance, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell and their two lovely daughters, Jane and Elizabeth, spent a year in Atlanta during the Georgia Terrace during the war, when Mr. Caldwell, a banker and prominent citizen of Staunton, was engaged in services to the war effort of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Elizabeth Caldwell was for a part of the time at school in Washington, but during her vacations she had much adventure among the college set in Atlanta.

Chamber Invites Business Women To Meet Tonight

An excellent response from Atlanta business women to the proposed movement for a business women's division of the chamber of commerce was announced by Miss Laura Smith, manager of the department of women's affairs and a member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

"This response will be crystallized in the organization meeting Friday night at 7:45 o'clock," states Miss Smith, "this meeting to be held in the town hall."

"Five hundred business women are invited, and an interesting program will be laid before them. Enough of this program is ready to assure immediate activity, but we are planning to put forward the initiative of the women themselves, so as to make the meeting their own."

Mrs. Charles E. Dowman, vice-chairman of the department of women's affairs, will preside at tonight's meeting.

Among the speakers will be Lee Ascraft, president of the chamber; Robert Troutman, vice president of the chamber, and Julian E. B. director of education; Miss Anna Smith, chairman of the woman's department; Miss Ada Booth and Miss John Bowie will give short talks.

STILL IN A MUDDLE.

The country is still in a muddle
over the question of federal taxation.

Certainly the new law has not measured up to the expectations of the people, and it has left business in a state of hopeless uncertainty
as to the demands the government is to make upon it next year.

All of this is stated upon no less an authority than Senator Reed Smoot, one of the ablest of republican party spokesmen and the majority party whip in the Senate.

Following the final passage of this bill a few days ago, Senator Smoot said of it:

"After carefully comparing the bill with the existing law I reached the conclusion that some, if only a slight improvement, was offered by
it. At the same time I do not regard the bill as the kind of tax revision measure the people of this country are entitled to. On the other hand, I am fearful of the effect on the country of further delay in letting it know what taxes are to be paid next year. After all, the bill can only be regarded as a temporary one, which is certain to be set aside next year when real tax revision must be undertaken."

This is a remarkable confession, coming as it does from one so high in the councils of the party that for more than two years has dominated congress, and that since last March 4 has had complete control of the government from cellar to garret.

The stock battle cry of the republicans has always been "democratic incompetence!"

During the last national campaign in particular the republicans were bitter in their criticism of democratic policies and measures, and promised that if they were given control of the government they would straighten things out in short order.

First of all, they told the people,
they would enact such laws as were needed to stabilize business and facilitate the process of after-war readjustment; and they laid particular stress upon the need of legislation to reduce and equitably distribute the tax burden.

The people did as the republicans wished, placing the affairs of government in their hands by an unprecedented majority vote.

Immediately the republican president convened the new republican congress in extraordinary session for the general purpose of hastening
the process of getting the country
"back to normalcy," and one of the specific things he admonished congress to do was to frame a tax bill to supplant the existing measure that had been framed and passed hurriedly to meet the emergency requirement of a law to provide the government with revenue to run a great war.

After being in session eight months congress finally passed a tax bill, of which the best that even the leader of its sponsors can say is that "the bill can only be regarded as a temporary one (a mere make-shift) which is certain to be set aside next year when real tax revision must be undertaken!"

And Senator Smoot said this despite the fact that in the same breath he declared himself "fearful of the effect of further delay in letting the country know what taxes are to be paid next year" to
"when real tax revision" is to be undertaken!"

What a pitiful confession of republican incompetence!

If ever any party had an exceptional opportunity to serve the country, and to justify the confidence that had been reposed in it,
the republican party had at the beginning of this year.

Judging by his holiday popularity, the week before Christmas is dollars jingle so, it's a wonder he

THE Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN.

The campaign to raise $10,000
with which to clear away the debt of the local Young Men's Christian association, and also with which to complete the negro Y. M. C. A. represents a movement which every public-spirited citizen of the community can we-afford to become identified.

These are two exceedingly won-thy institutions, and they deserve the ungrudging support of the public.

Measured by the value of its service to the community, the amount of money the Y. M. C. A. is asking Atlantans to contribute is infinitesimal; and no delay should be experienced in raising the last dollar of it.

The campaign has started off auspiciously, and the indications are that it will terminate "one hundred per cent" successfully in record time.

It will for a certainty if the people of this city do their full duty,
for the cause underlying it is one to which the public should gladly contribute.

A WISE POLICY.

Resolutions recently adopted by a recent joint meeting of the chamber of commerce, cotton exchange and the clearing house association, of Memphis, Tenn., and reproduced elsewhere, warn the farmers of the south against the danger in planting a normal cotton acreage next spring and admonish them to pursue a "safe and sane" policy by growing more food and feedstuffs.

We commend this declaration
to our readers.

The only thing that saved the south from complete disaster this year is the fact that the cotton acreage was far below normal,
the surplus having been devoted to products of human and live stock consumption.

The ravages of the boll weevil
this year were the greatest ever known; and had the cotton acreage been normal there would not have been enough money in the south with which to buy the food necessities that we would have had to import to prevent actual want.

As it was, the south produced more food and feed crops than ever before in its history, and the serious consequences of the cotton shortage were greatly minimized.

There is no indication that the boll weevil menace will be less next year than it was in 1921.
It has spread each year until now
the pest covers practically the whole of the cotton-producing area of the country. It bids fair to be even more devastating in infested areas in 1922 than it was this year.

It is to be hoped the farmers will profit by experience, refuse to be lured into almost certain disaster by tempting cotton price quotations, hold their cotton acreage down to the minimum next year and produce more food and feed crops, and more dairy products, hogs, cattle, poultry,
etc., than ever before.

That is "safe and sane" farming!

WAR SPIRIT AND MOVIES.

Each of the American representatives at the arms limitation conference was presented the other day with a regulation six-shooter revolver, the gift from a popular movie star who is well known as an actor of heroic parts in films purporting to depict wild western life.

Accompanying the revolver in each instance was a note signed by the donor saying that the writer would dispense with gun-play in his pictures if the delegate thought it was in any way responsible for or conducive to the development or continuance of the spirit of war.

According to a Washington
news report, each delegate responded with a "letter of appreciation;" but Senator Lodge went further than that and suggested that the movies ought to be "disarmed" because, he said, gunplay on the screen "tends to breed the war spirit by making shooting at other people appear to be a spirited and exciting form of activity."

The suggestion made by the Massachusetts statesman is at least interesting; and undoubtedly there is much truth in what he says.

Certainly there is nothing edyfying or of a refined tendency in gunplay; and there is nothing to be lost in disarmament of the movies.

At the same time, it is likewise unquestionably true that the maintenance of navies and armies has something to do with perpetuation of the war spirit.

And it would be gratifying to the tax-payers—and especially to the mothers—if the conference would accept as applying to armies and navies and nations the Lodge attitude toward armaments
and the movies—then act accordingly.

entanglements.")

BUILDING RECORDS FOR CITY BROKEN

Statistics in the office of Charles J. Bowen, city building inspector, show that a new record in building activity in Atlanta was set in November, as the first eleven months of 1921 had established a record in the city hitherto unequalled by the corresponding period of any former year.

Business has increased in volume approximately 30 per cent, as shown by the records. Permits issued during the first eleven months equaled 3,604 in number, while for the first eleven months in 1920, only 2,498 permits were granted. During the year the amount of building placed under construction amounted to a total of $16,969,000, which is considerably better than last year's record of $13,000,000, considering the drop of 30 per cent in cost of all building material, declared Mr. Bowen.

The larger items of the month, according to statistics in the office of the chief building inspector were: 27 homes estimated at a value of $20,000; 1855; four apartment houses, $35,200; seven public buildings, $42,000; 12 brick business houses, $121,000; and 15 frame business houses, $15,700.

Comparisons of the month's record in number of homes that have been placed under construction with previous months of the year lead Inspector Bowen to predict that 1922 will be Atlanta's record home-building year. If December's record is the equal of November's, this will be found true.

Permits were issued during November for buildings which will total in value $667,661, which is greater than the total for November and December combined of 1920. Comparison of the building records by the month during 1921 and 1920 show the following:

	1921	1920
January	$ 586,900	$ 1,721,560
February	553,623	972,192
March	1,094,164	1,047,173
April	778,328	1,736,138
May	1,556,282	1,210,892
June	855,716	2,392,665
July	1,948,322	1,201,723
September	216,620	1,076,656

EAST POINT AGENT OF CENTRAL ROAD REMAINS MISSING

Officers are still at a loss to account for the disappearance of E. M. Sutherland, East Point agent for the Central of Georgia railroad. The whereabouts of Mr. Sutherland have been unknown since Monday morning. Auditors who are checking up accounts in his office state that thus far he has recovered nothing further. Mrs. Sutherland, who knows of no reason for her husband's disappearance, is prostrated, and is under the care of a physician.

Mr. Sutherland, who had occupied the post of agent for the road at East Point for the past four years, had been in the employ of the road for over ten years, having been appointed to the East Point agency, C. D. Owens, for some time chief clerk in the East Point office, has been named temporary agent.

Allen Urges Senators To Seek Acceptance Of Henry Ford's Offer

Ivan E. Allen, president of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association, has written Senators Harris and Watson, urging that they work for acceptance of Henry Ford's offer to the government for the Muscle Shoals property in Alabama. Mr. Allen says that the Atlanta retail merchants have a keen interest in supporting any movement that will contribute to the welfare of the south.

Ninety-nine per cent of the patronage given Atlanta merchants comes from the south, and naturally we have a keen interest in helping to develop that market," he writes. In view of the fact that the government has largely undertaken the administration of Muscle Shoals, Alab., which can be utilized to the advantage of the government and the south, by the acceptance of Henry Ford's offer, I urge the Senate to accept the government because it is the only reasonable offer made by a responsible bidder.

It is the opinion of the government that carrying out of Ford's plan would make available for southern farms an ample supply of fertilizers, and that the cost of fertilizers will be reduced.

I am writing to urge upon the secretary of war and upon congress the prompt acceptance of his offer.

TALKS ON NEOSHO PLAN MADE AT AD MEETING

Musics supplied by the Agnes Scott Glee club, the presentation of golf cups by O. B. Keeler and illuminating talks on the Neosho plan by three speakers, featured the meeting of the Atlanta Ad club Thursday afternoon in the Kimball house.

B. C. Kersey, president of the Neosho Ad club spoke of the club's activities there in connection with the Neosho plan of advertising and co-operative buying and selling; Gurney Lowe, well-known Neosho advocate and organizer, also spoke, and W. L. Milburn, assistant secretary of the club's Neosho committee, outlined the work of the committee.

The trophies and their winners in the recent club tournament follow:

A. H. Bailey, championship cup, given by G. F. Willis, and also golf club for winning the low net qualifying round; Guy Woolford, runner-up in the championship flight; Arthur Howell, low gross qualifying and runner-up in the consolation flight; Tracy Endicott, Kenneth Koenig, winner and runner-up in the fifth flight; Paul Reese and George Lowman, winners of the hobby prizes.

The "play in the Al Bailey" (last chance) flight for the first-round losers in all flights, has not yet been completed.

SUCCESS FOR PEACE MEETING PREDICTED

Congressman William D. Upshaw, of Georgia, ranking democratic member of the congressional committee on pensions, left the city for Washington, D. C., at midnight Thursday, after a flying visit to Atlanta upon his return from a number of speaking engagements in Kentucky. He arrived in Atlanta Wednesday night.

Discussing the peace conference, Congressman Upshaw declared that it is already a success. Regardless of its ultimate conclusions, which can come only after the delegations of the participating nations, said Mr. Upshaw, "the splendid courtesies and the humanitarian fellowship between the delegates have made a profound impression that will carry to every capital of the old world now represented in Washington. In all the history of mankind, I believe, there has never been anything like this."

"The spirit of Godly reverence and international fellowship, mellowed all hearts and gave to the titled participants and the listening masses great hope."

"It is as clear as day that when a company of men, representing themselves or their governments, cross an ocean and sit down around the council table, for the sake of trying to keep from fighting, instead of planning to fight each other, there can be but one result, and that result must be good."

"President Harding has made a magnificent impression on all the foreign representatives, while Secretary Charles E. Hughes has simply towered above all petty things, and impressed not only America, but the onlooking world with the masterful way of a great personality and a consecrated purpose."

In speaking of democratic prospects, Congressman Upshaw said that "the general conviction throughout the country—and I have talked with men who are in close touch with the situation—seems to be that the tide will swing over to the democratic forces in the next election." It is the story of a cause divided against itself.

"The minute the republicans begin to tinker with the tariff, a movement will start that will lay them open to the advantage of the government and the south, by the acceptance of Henry Ford's offer," he said.

Congressman Upshaw is nursing a bad right hand, "except my left hand, boy," said Mr. Upshaw as he shook hands with several members of The Constitution's editorial staff Thursday.

"The French in me," continued the congressman smiling, "is indirectly responsible for the temporary incapacity of my good right hand. Instead of the presence in Washington of a man divided against himself, there has lost caste in the eyes of the country."

"The minute the republicans begin to tinker with the tariff, a movement will start that will lay them open to the advantage of the government and the south, by the acceptance of Henry Ford's offer," he said.

In connection with the building, we might see Rev. Walter Swihart, of northern Indiana, has assisted in the construction work. He belongs to the church of the Brethren, or what is generally known as the Dunkards, a people who are proverbial for putting their profession into practice. In putting this colony will be largely made up of Dunkards.

Onings is back of water, caused by the prolonged drought, and difficulty in getting material, the work of building has been somewhat retarded. However, there will soon be 10 houses of different designs completed. These were planned by Mr. Ferris, a talented architect, from New York. They were built at a cost of $10,000 each, and the cost of which will be built monthly will be planned to suit purchaser's taste.

An office has also been erected near Brooker, where Mr. Ferris makes headquarters. Brooker is only a flag station on the G. & F. railway. There is no post office established there yet, but probably will be later, as it is a natural location for a town.

Camp Discusses Centre's Invasion Of Pacific Coast's Stronghold

Noted Expert Declares Duel Between Roberts and Muller Will Prove Interesting.

BY WALTER CAMP.

Since Centre college has accepted the invitation to make the trip to Pasadena for the big New Year's day game, the question of the hours the football world, is how the Kentucky team will shape up against "the bears" of the University of California, their probable opponents.

Starting off with the stars, "Buck" Muller, of California, and "Red" Roberts, of Centre, probably will be the most outstanding figures on the gridiron aside from the all-star "Bo" McMillin. Roberts is of rounded contour. In fact, persons who gaze upon him for the first time think he is fat, as they once did upon Henry, of Washington and Jefferson, the star tackle of the day.

Very Active.

Roberts is so active that in the game in which Centre defeated Harvard there was much criticism because the Crimson directed so many plays against Roberts. It did not seem to Robert simply got to the point where the play was directed. But if Roberts is a star, how about feeling of the entire Muller, who can clear a cross bar at six feet four inches, and whose qualities in football include the usual duties of an end plus throwing 50 and 60-yard passes and being the receiver of others.

Back of the line, "Bo" McMillin, all-American quarterback, will direct Centre's plays, and will do a little running himself, while Erb, the California star, will confine himself more largely to the regular duties of a quarter. It would not be surprising if Nisbet, the California back, should give in an exchange of kicks. And, although Centre had a narrow victory last year against Harvard when she found her line defense and line attack were not what they should be, and has improved in line drive immensely, California has the more powerful set of forwards with McMillin, Latham and Grammer. California has another star end in Stephens and so has Centre in Snoddy. Nichols and Toomey are good in the Califorion line, but it is hard to say if any one in the backfield can eclipse "Bo" McMillin. The Centre team will have to beat Muller from getting into McMillin, however, and on the other hand Centre will have to watch Muller's forward passing proclivities both launching them and in receiving them.

Teams Compared.

Perhaps the nearest comparison of the two teams is to be made by Centre's victory over Auburn and California's victory over Stanford. The former was the first down against Auburn and carried the ball 448 yards from formations and ran back punts 111 yards. California did practically as well against Stanford, but was scored upon owing to a fumble by Toomey in the early stages of the game.

Altogether, it appears as though California might attack Centre and be somewhat superior in straight line drive. But Centre will furnish a kind of opposition which California has not faced hitherto in such a brilliant pair as McMillin and Roberts.

How the long trip to the coast will affect the Centre team is a question. The trip and the climate probably will take something out of the Kentucky. If either McMillin or Roberts should go wrong, California should have an easy time of it, but if these two men are in their usual fine shape, the California defense will have to extend itself. There should be some fireworks in the form of forward passes as both teams are proficient in this play.

Centre has not suffered defeat this year nor has California. The latter knows what it is to come from behind because that is what it had to do in the game with Stanford. Both are scoring teams and rely upon a whirlwind attack. California is the more experienced, defensively, especially to the running game, and that is a considerable asset.

SWAINSBORO FIRM GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

Savannah, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—Cox & Harper, one of the largest mercantile firms of Swainsboro, Emanuel county, yesterday afternoon filed proceedings in voluntary bankruptcy in the federal court here. The papers indicate liabilities of $35,000 and assets of $31,000.

SCHOOL DEDICATION EXERCISES FRIDAY

The public is invited to attend the dedication exercises of the new Decatur High School building, which begins at 11 o'clock today. An interesting program has been arranged, including singing by the high school students, addresses by prominent Decatur citizens, officers of the school system and the representation of the American and Georgia state flags.

The building was recently completed at a cost of approximately $100,000, and will add greatly to Decatur's educational facilities. Completion of the high school gives Decatur four modern school buildings.

Alaska's mineral output in 1920 was valued at $23,307,757.

NO HOPE FOR KNOXVILLE

Important Legislation Is Billed

Knoxville, Tenn., December 1.—(Special)—Knoxville will not be in the Southern league next year. That is the official dope which came out yesterday. The Mobile association has been reorganized and no club is willing to give up its franchise.

Frank Moffett, who had planned to attend the Southern league meeting on December 15 at Memphis, has called off his trip on receiving word that Mobile has reorganized, elected a new president and is actively making preparations to turn out a pennant-winning nine next year.

There was some discussion of Chattanooga or Little Rock dropping out but this is just rumor. Chattanooga has no desire to release its franchise and Little Rock has a scrapping capitalist back up. So the Mobile chance was the only one left.

Outlook Was Good.

For some time there was an exceedingly bright outlook for Knoxville getting into the Southern league via Mobile's franchise. Blue laws were introduced into the Alabama legislature which prohibited Sunday baseball. Then the club officials got busy and decided if these laws were passed they would drop out of the Southern league.

The new president has been journeying among big leagues and seems to have signed a contract with St. Louis so this indicates Mobile will weather the storm.

So that leaves Knoxville in the April league. But there seems to be some talk of reorganizing the league with a couple of larger towns and making the association a Class C affair, one notch higher.

TITLE BATTLE ON SATURDAY

BY BLINKEY HORN.

Nashville, Tenn., December 1.—(Special)—Two of Vandy's most valiant sons will appear on Dudley Field Saturday afternoon in Nashville's last taste of the autumnal sport. The final duel of the year is at hand. And when the disciples of Red Floyd and Lewis Hardage clash on Dudley field it will be a duel under the auspices of the McGinnis system.

Long may memory of the gallant "Johnson Stogdell" linger in the memory of Commodore followers who watched his crippled form and bent back in Gold and Black battles last year. For the past fall Red has lent his football knowledge to the grid clan of Morgan school at Petersburg. And the former Vandy captain turned out a like hand in the Cracker state.

Burlington's Dividends Boost Rail Stocks

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, December 1.—Great Northern and Northern Pacific were the features of today's stock market, these shares making new high records for this movement around 12:30 when word was flashed over private wires from Chicago that the Burlington had declared an extra 15 per cent dividend in addition to 5 per cent as a quarterly payment. Since it was learned that the directors were still in meeting and these stocks sold off.

From the same sources that forecasted the extra dividend on Burlington it was learned today that later in the week the Colorado and Southern, which is controlled by Burlington, would resume dividends on its common stock, probably at the rate of 3 per cent per annum. That company paid 2 per cent on its common stock from 1908 to 1911 and 1 per cent in 1912.

Great Northern made more progress today than Northern Pacific. However, it is realized, that Northern Pacific is now earning its regular 7 per cent dividend without any extra payments from Burlington, where-as that is not true of Great Northern.

While railroad stocks were strong today on easier money, many dividend-paying shares still offered attractive income returns, no special attention was paid by Wall street to the announcement that the railroad labor board had arrived at its decision on 148 working rules, revising those rules so that the carriers would get rid of the uneconomic conditions built up under federal control. In railway banking circles the belief was expressed that the importance of this decision was not realized. It was stated that under the new ruling the railroads would be able to greatly increase operating efficiency and output, thus saving a large sum of money.

Advances in Marks. There was a further sharp advance today in German marks on the increasing prospects for a moratorium on reparation payments, while working hardships on France and others counting on this money, would be less harmful than a continuation of the decrease in their value.

Despite the talk of the conferences to adjust war debts and stabilize exchange bankers here are still of the belief that no real progress will be made in this direction until there has been a return in Europe to something like more normal conditions in trade and currency. As far as we are concerned, it is believed that we will give the green light to the sale through the purchase of foreign securities when on easier money our own securities have advanced to a level where the income return is no longer attractive.

Sears-Roebuck gave out its November earnings today, showing $16,366,000 in net sales, or 16.56 per cent, compared with last year. For the eleven months the figures were $160,934,000, a decrease of $74,033,000, or 31.6 per cent.

Spot crude rubber sold today at 40 1/2 cents—the highest price touched in over a year. The tire companies buying.

Three stock exchange seats changed hands today, one for $30,000, one for $90,000 and the other being an exchange between two partners. The last sale was at $84,000.

Two Resignations.

Mortimer L. Schiff and Otto H. Kahn, partners in the private banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., both resigned today as directors of Union Pacific. No reason was given. Wall street, however, concluded that as neither was a director of the railroads, the law regarding interlocking directors was not violated, the reason must be the next transportation act will prohibit the president director directly or indirectly in the purchase or sale of securities.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. reorganized to something like more normal conditions in trade and currency.

Sears-Roebuck gave out its November earnings today, showing $16,366,000 in net sales, or 16.56 per cent, compared with last year. For the eleven months the figures were $160,934,000, a decrease of $74,033,000, or 31.6 per cent.

Spot crude rubber sold today at 40 1/2 cents—the highest price touched in over a year. The tire companies buying.

Three stock exchange seats changed hands today, one for $30,000, one for $90,000 and the other being an exchange between two partners. The last sale was at $84,000.

Two Resignations.

Mortimer L. Schiff and Otto H. Kahn, partners in the private banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., both resigned today as directors of Union Pacific. No reason was given. Wall street, however, concluded that as neither was a director of the railroads, the law regarding interlocking directors was not violated, the reason must be the next transportation act will prohibit the president director directly or indirectly in the purchase or sale of securities.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. reorganized to something like more normal conditions in trade and currency.

As far as we are concerned, it is believed that we will give the green light to the sale through the purchase of foreign securities when on easier money our own securities have advanced to a level where the income return is no longer attractive.

THE GUMPS—ANOTHER LINK IN THE SAUSAGE

In and Around Decatur

BY COLONEL JEFFERSON S. MILLS.

Decatur, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—L. T. Y. Nash, commissioner of roads and revenues for DeKalb county, stated Thursday that he had received a deed made over to the county by the Georgia Railroad and Banking company for that unfinished stretch of county highway from below Stone Mountain to the Rockdale county line, along the railroad right of way, and the county forces are already at work on the last link which is to connect Atlanta with a highway leading entirely through DeKalb, a distance of about 30 miles.

However, he has failed to come to an agreement with some citizens from Bethel church to Redan for furnishing material for surface-soiling, the amount asked for being for a road 30 feet wide, over a stretch of about two miles.

The commissioner adds that if some agreement cannot be reached with these citizens some time this week, it will be necessary to carry the road along this length to the north side of the Georgia railroad, where soil has been offered, and the railroad re-crossed again at Redan.

The road will be cut to a grade of 3 1/2 to 4 per cent, and is expected to be completed within six weeks.

Hasn't Seen Enough of Life.

Uncle Riley Evans, of Lithonia, 101 years old on the 10th of last September, says he wants to live 10 years longer, and also he desires it to be understood that there is nothing too good for him to eat.

James E. McGuire, son of Uncle Riley's old master, lives at Jonesboro, Ga., and is said to be 80 years of age.

Uncle Riley marched up to the polls and voted the democratic ticket in 1865, and has voted continuously the same way since that time. He is thought to be the first negro to vote the democratic ticket in DeKalb.

FACTS About Three Hogs.

P. F. G. Clarke, who conducts extensive farming interests in Georgia, resides at Clarkston, and it was at the latter place that one of his tenanted three pigs the other day, weighing, in round numbers, 500, 600 and 700 pounds, the three totaling about 1,800 pounds.

Wild Goats at Stone Mountain.

For the past 25 or 30 years, probably, there has been a herd of wild goats on Stone mountain. These goats are said to number only about a dozen, and there seems to be not much variation in the number of the flock from year to year. However, the males seem to outnumber the females. These animals are far more agile than our common domesticated varieties, and from their movements one can easily see the lassitude. They also evidently indulge in fierce conflict on some occasions, as the dead carcass of a male is sometimes found at the foot of the steep side of the mountain, from which it is surmised he was thrust over by the superior strength of another bewhiskered gent of the tribe.

Frank Guess, of the law firm of Guess & Guess, of the Lower National bank, Atlanta, says that the mountain is still the paradise of fox hunters. Bears are reported as fairly numerous, and it is even averred that traces are sometimes discovered of a still more dreaded animal, which is said to be an American species of the tiger family.

Kirkwood Election.

Kirkwood is to have a city election next Wednesday. But unless other candidates announce for office, its citizens will have to resort to the draft law to obtain officials for the new year, only one entrance having been made to date.

The city council and board of education members are to be elected, and efforts now are being made to secure candidates for the offices. J. L. Beverly has announced for council on the first day.

Boy Disappears.

Elmer Perkins, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Perkins, of Decatur, disappeared late Saturday afternoon, and his parents fear foul play. Officials here are searching for the boy.

The following description of the boy is given:

He is described as being five feet ten inches in height, weighs about 160 pounds and has dark hair. He was employed as shipping clerk at the National Paper company. Last Saturday he went to the New York Dental parlor to have some work done. He left there about 4 o'clock and has not been seen or heard from by his parents.

Their address is Decatur, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 194-A.

THEFTS REPORTED DURING THURSDAY TO CITY POLICE

Deferred action in the selection of a consulting and constructing engineer to assume the responsibilities connected with the construction of the Spring street viaduct by the viaduct committee of the bond commission, was due, according to Walter C. Cooper, chairman, to the desire of the members to exercise the greatest care in their choice of the man who is to put through the huge project.

"We have a very important task before us," said Mr. Cooper, "and a matter of eight days will be an unimportant delay if we get the right man for the job, and the committee certainly is making a sincere effort to select the right man."

On the other hand, if we select a man proves unable to handle the grave problems which will confront him in the planning and building of the viaduct, we will have made an irreparable mistake."

P. Thornton Marry, president of the Georgia chapter, American Institute of Architects, offered the services of the organization to the meeting, which was a plan under which the Atlanta membership as an association tendered its professional services to the bond commission. Mr. Marry also stated that all architects in the city not members of the association, will be invited to join.

Chairman Inniss disapproved of the idea and stated that in his opinion the architect who might be obtained by offering the plans to an architect or firm of architects with an individual award of work.

J. E. Griner, of Baltimore, senior member of J. E. Griner & Co., consulting engineers and bridge specialists, attended at the viaduct meeting and advised the committee on certain details of construction of the viaduct project.

AUTO IS DAMAGED WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

The bumper and fender of an automobile belonging to Eugene Dickey, of Dr. J. H. Peters, were damaged and bent when a whitewall post on East Hunter street, was broken when an automobile truck, parked behind Mr. Dickey's automobile, slipped loose from its brake on the steep grade and crashed into the rear of the automobile.

No one was injured. The truck, owned by the Gate City Dairy company, was at the time in charge of George F. Parker, of 137 Creek street. Parker had parked the machine while delivering milk.

Mrs. Crumley was 73 years of age.

SERVICES ON FRIDAY FOR DR. L. C. NEWMAN

Funeral services for Dr. Lewis C. Newman, a well-known Atlanta physician, who died Wednesday at the residence, Allene avenue, will be conducted at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the home. Interment will follow in Greenwood cemetery, with Greenberg and Bond in charge.

GOUCHER GRADUATES TO MEET PRESIDENT

Dr. William W. Guth, president of the Goucher College for Women, will enter Saturday morning at the college alumnae of Atlanta in connection with the college's $6,000,000 fund. Dr. Guth will arrive late Friday from Birmingham, Ala., where he has been entertained, and will leave Sunday afternoon for another graduate meeting in Cincinnati.

Officers of the Atlanta chapter of the National Alumnae Association are Miss Emma Gregg, 176 Capital Avenue, president, and Miss Frances Campbell, 178 St. Charles avenue, vice-president.

RESPITE IS GRANTED HARRIS COUNTY NEGRO

Governor Hardwick yesterday granted a fortnight's respite to Lewis Murrah, Harris county negro, sentenced to be hanged tomorrow. It was represented to the governor that the negro was not mentally responsible and the delay was given to permit a hearing before him on the question.
